

The <Linked Open Data> Workshop for <Buddhist> and <Tibetan> Studies at <Columbia University>

Organized by

Buddhist Digital
Resource Center

and

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY LIBRARIES

Sponsored by

TSADRA FOUNDATION

and

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY
Weatherhead East Asian Institute

Monday, November 11, 2019 | Butler Library, Room 523
9:30 am - 6:00 pm | Columbia University

Bringing together representatives of major Buddhist and Tibetan digital initiatives along with scholars and technical experts to discuss information standards and best practices for projects in our interrelated fields. The workshop will focus on the promise of Linked Open Data to support collaboration across projects, which will greatly benefit our scholarly infrastructure and open new possibilities for research.

{ Collaborators }

Adarsha ↔ Amrita Translation Foundation ↔ Asian Classics Input Project ↔ British Library ↔ Buddhist Canons Research Database ↔ Buddhist Digital Resource Center ↔ Centre d'études himalayennes (CNRS) ↔ Columbia University ↔ Dharma Drum Institute for Liberal Arts / CBETA ↔ Dunhuang Foundation ↔ SAT Daizōkyō Text Database ↔ Internet Archive ↔ Latse Library, New York ↔ Library of Congress ↔ National Museums Liverpool ↔ Open Philology at Leiden University ↔ Princeton University Library ↔ Resources for Kanjur & Tanjur Studies ↔ Stanford University ↔ The Rubin Museum of Art ↔ Treasury of Lives ↔ Tsadra Foundation ↔ Wesleyan University ↔ Wisdom Publications ↔ 84,000

For more information, contact Jann Ronis (jann@tbrc.org) and Lauran Hartley (lh2112@columbia.edu).